

Children's Rug Concert Scheduled at Hickory Public Library.

Come hear the music, performed especially for young children in a "Rug Concert" at Patrick Beaver Memorial Library. Children are invited to hear the Hausmann String Quartet on Wednesday, Feb. 24 at 11:00 a.m. The free concert is open to the public.

The "Rug Concert" is a special program that introduces children to classical music and instruments. The performances always include audience participation. After the concert, the audience is invited to go into the library to select books and music CDs to take home.

The Hausmann String Quartet is the guest string quartet of the Western Piedmont Symphony. During their stay in Hickory, they perform with the symphony, present in school concerts, and perform at various other venues. Members of the quartet include Isaac Allen, violin; Bram Goldstein, violin; Angela Chong, viola; and Yuan Zhang, cello.

Patrick Beaver Memorial Library is located at 375 3rd Street NE on the SALT Block. For information call 304-0500 ext. 7271
